This drum score is written for ten staves, each labeled 'Drs' on the left. The first staff includes a common time signature 'C'. The notation uses a five-line staff with a double bar line at the bottom. The primary rhythmic pattern consists of eighth notes on the top line and a bass drum (represented by a vertical line) on the bottom line. This pattern is often grouped with a bracket. The score is divided into measures by vertical bar lines. Above the staff, there are various markings: '0' above the eighth notes, 'x' above the bass drum, and 'x' above the eighth notes. The score is organized into systems of four measures each, with measure numbers 6, 11, 16, 22, 27, 32, 37, 43, and 48 placed to the left of the corresponding staff. The tempo is indicated as 120 beats per minute at the top left.

The musical score is written for guitar, featuring six systems of notation. Each system consists of a treble staff and a bass staff. The treble staff contains a series of eighth-note chords, often with a '0' (open string) above them. The bass staff contains a simple bass line with eighth notes and rests. The systems are numbered 53, 58, 63, 68, 74, and 80. The notation includes various symbols like 'x' for muted strings and '0' for open strings.
